

Energy Resilience

Supporting clients as they work to protect the resilience and security of North America's energy infrastructure

WHO IS HAGERTY?

Hagerty Consulting, Inc. (Hagerty) is a full-service consulting firm that helps clients prepare for, respond to, and recover from disasters.

We draw on our extensive experience with federal funding programs, disaster preparedness, and crisis response to support clients nationwide in strengthening the resilience and preparedness of their assets, operations, and people.

Whether your organization is an investor-owned utility, state agency, or membership organization, our team can help you reimagine your crisis response operations; train and exercise your people; or identify, pursue, and manage federal funds.

OUR EXPERTISE

With significant investment in energy infrastructure at all levels of government and by the private sector, public and private entities are uniquely positioned to respond to an evolving risk environment by investing in infrastructure programs, risk mitigation planning, as well as crisis preparedness and response activities.

OUR CLIENTS

Federal Funds Management

Hagerty is partnering with state governments and public utilities to assess energy resilience priorities; design federally funded energy resilience programs; and identify, pursue, and assist in managing federal funds that support energy resilience initiatives.

Energy Security and Risk Mitigation Planning

Hagerty is working with state energy offices across the country to develop and exercise State Energy Security Plans, helping strengthen the energy future of states nationwide.

Regional and National Exercises

Hagerty supported the North American Electric Reliability Corporation (NERC) in developing GridEx VI and VII and has partnered with utilities and government entities across the continent to exercise energy emergency response.

Planning, Training, and Exercises

Hagerty helps investor-owned utilities prepare for emergencies by delivering planning initiatives, training programs, and exercise series, ensuring they're prepared in the face of a critical event.
